

Data Security Statement

Every log-in on the Foundation's website www.museumsstiftung.de is registered and the following data are stored and processed temporarily in a 'logbook' file.

- IP address of the visitor's computer
- date and time
- document called up/read

This data is only used – anonymously – for statistical purposes and evaluated with a view to improving our services before being irretrievably deleted. This data is neither used for other purposes nor passed on to others.

In the case of individual pages being called up, so-called temporary cookies are used to facilitate navigation. Personal data is not registered during this process.

In order to send out further information material requested by our website visitors or to answer any questions they may have, we need their email or postal addresses. These are only stored and used for the dispatch of printed materials or for correspondence. Visitors may withdraw their permission for the MFPT to store their personal data at any time.

Our website visitors are also entitled to receive information about the storage of their personal data, the origins and receivers of such data, and the purpose of storage. Requests for information may be addressed to: datenschutz@mspt.de.
